

THE BEAUTY OF LIVING IN AN URBAN FOREST

ECOSYSTEM SERVICES, LANDSCAPE PROTECTION AND PROMOTION, CLIMATE CHANGE, COMMUNICATION AND ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

Friday 30th October 2020

Live streaming on YouTube and Facebook

CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

Chairman Mr. Roberto Diolaiti, President of Public Gardens

9:30 am Speech by the Mayor of Cervia, Mr. Massimo Medri

10:00 am Effects of urban forests on urban micro- and meso-climate
Teodoro Georgiadis, Head Researcher at the CNR Biometeorology Institute of Bologna

10:15 am The Adriadapt Project – Climate adjustment of the Adriatic Sea towns. Developing local know-how
Margaretha Breil, Project Manager, Euro-Mediterranean Centre on Climate Change

10:30 am Resilience and antifragility in urban systems: territorial planning to face climate change. The commitment of Cervia's City Council
Daniele Capitani, Territory Management and Planning, Cervia City Council.

Considerations and questions

Break

11:20 am Equilibrium. Project responsibility between nature and artifice
Alfonso Femia, Studio Atelier(s) Genua-Milan-Paris

11:35 am The Earth Rescued by Trees. But trees are going to save us first
Francesco Ferrini, Professor of General Arboriculture and Agroforestry, University of Florence

11:50 am Between nature, culture and identity: the value of tree anthropization
Giovanni Morelli, Professor at the University of Venice, Landscape Architecture Master Degree

12.05 pm Landscape Architecture and communication
Novella Cappelletti, Director of Paysage magazine

Considerations and questions

12.40 pm The 4.5 million-new tree Project, Emilia Romagna's green corridor
Irene Priolo, Councillor for the Environment of the Emilia-Romagna region

Considerations and questions

Lunch break

2:30 pm Innovative use of ecosystem services in river delta areas. The Po Delta experience as part of the Delta Lady project
Maria Pia Pagliaruso, Director of the Po Delta Parks and Biodiversity Agency

2:45 pm Urban Forests: nature-based solutions in support of the environment and communities
Fabio Salbitano, Professor of Forestry, Landscape Ecology, Management and Recovery of Forest Surroundings, University of Florence

Considerations and questions

3.10 pm Environmental education and citizen science: a challenge for future change
Elisa Pellegrini, Professor at the University of Pisa, Master Degree in Design and Management of Urban Green Spaces and Landscaping, Department of Agriculture, Food and Agro-Environmental Sciences

3:25 pm The landscape of coastal pinewoods: bio-diversity protection and fruition
Commander Giovanni Nobili, Head of Biodiversity Department of the Carabinieri Corps in Punta Marina

3:40 pm Protection and promotion of Ravenna's historic pinewood between nature and culture
Massimiliano Costa, Director of projects for environmental promotion and protection, Ravenna City Council

3:55 pm Conclusions
Roberto Diolaiti, President of Public Gardens and member of the Italian Committee for Public Green Spaces

Considerations and questions

4:30 pm Closing remarks
Patrizia Petrucci, Head Delegate in charge of green areas, town of Cervia